RECENT OPERATIONS

By Sam Rardin

I've been a Summer Bachelor now for nearly five weeks and during that time I have found out a lot of things about running a lake. I've found out that when I see a shirt and a pair of pants in the corner that they stay right there. I've found out that the mattress must be turned over at least once every five weeks or you will find one self sinking out of sight upon retiring. I've found out that it would be a great help if I had used paper plates and paper cups along with paper napkins during said five weeks. I've found out that the extra pair of socks just won't wash themselves. Then, too, I leave room for wisecracking such as a neighbor of mine pulled off by just to see how he would end up and happened to walk by the bath room. He immediately wanted to know whose "sweetly" was left in the bath room. Naturally I was interested in his answer but he had found when the wisecracker said he noticed a couple of rings in the bath tub.

Have you seen my flivver since Slim Ellis in Pahokee passed it? It looks much as good as it did 65,000 miles ago. In fact it looks so good that maybe I'll drive it another 65,000 miles.

Mr. W. S. Cross has opened a cafe in Canal Point and since I am a Summer Bachelor I have found out that she is serving some mighty fine meals. Everything tastes delicious and the cafe has been redecorated and painted within which makes it a cozy place to dine.

Well, I finally took advantage of Leon Ruggles's invitation to try out a pair of his skates. But I sure made a mistake when I called them Autumns the skates. I thought when I got those things tied onto my feet that I had one of Mr. Elliott's V-8s on wheels. I was of course Lawrence Willard's goggles on the other. I also found out that roller skating isn't a thing like ice skating. I made a vain effort to cut a few fancy capers on the rollers just like I had in years gone by on ice skates—but it wouldn't work. If you want to see a little plain and fancy skating drop by some time when I'm on the floor.

The Cleveland Engineers and the Pahokee base have been furnished an afternoon of clean sport and amusement for the fans last Sunday when they played in Pahokee. Those two teams seem to get along mighty nice, and one never knows what the outcome is going to be until the last ball is called. For instance, Sunday they battled along on even terms in eleven innings until Rupert Mock eluded one into deep right and brought in the winning run for a score of 2 to 1.

There is a lot of building going on in the Lake region, and much more is going to be done just as soon as folks learn that the lake is open to business. Money can be borrowed under the Federal Housing Act for modernization, new building, painting, etc. The lumber companies in Pahokee are ready to render a service that to the people of the Everglades and V. C. Denton also states that he is in line to care for loans on paint and builders' hardware. Wells and Royal and The Pahokee and Belle Glade Lumber companies are offering this new service.

The Miami-Jockey club, headed by Joe E. Widener of New York and Palm Beach, requested the racing association, operator of Tropical Park at Coral Gables, to word that its representative, S. P. Robinson, could not be present the opening day of the meeting.

Elmer Jones, butcher in Bailey's Grocery in Pahokee, learned the pulling power of his said place in the columns of The Everglades News during the past week. Mr. Jones had a piano he wished to sell and asked the editor of the paper to put a little ad and he had written. I figured it up and the amount was $4.00. The piano appeared in last Friday's paper and Monday Elmer called me in the store and stated that the piano brought results and the piano was sold. Maybe you have something you would like to convert into cash.

V-8 Leaves Buick In Friendly Test On Indianwood Road

A little light-hearted jockey during the past few days between the owner of a new Ford V-8 and the owner of a new Buick 8 coupe terminated in a friendly test of speed on Indianwood road. The Buick 8 coupe, owned by Raymond Clouston, owner of the Buick 8 coupe, and the Ford V-8, owned by the late Mr. Clouston, were both driven by the late Mr. Clouston, who was killed in a crash on Indianwood road.

The boys lined up on a lonely stretch of the well-paved road and started from a standstill. ### Russell Kay Visits California Pacific Exposition In San Diego

(By Russell Kay) SAN DIEGO, July 25.—(FNS)—Termed the "California Pacific Exposition," the California Pacific Exposition, staged in beautiful Balboa Park at San Diego, was not as great in scope as the recent Century of Progress in Chicago, in many respects superior, and is attracting an attendance far beyond the fondest expectations of its promoters.

Officially opened May 29, the Exposition has already entertained over a million and a half, with crowds increasing daily. From a financial standpoint it is already in the black with nearly four months to go. Tours of 200,000 and visitors are expected to see the exhibition in its entirety.

LOOKING YOUR BEST

We are in a habit of thinking of certain persons of our acquaintance as being well dressed. What is it that gives us this impression? We realize that these things often cannot make us appear well dressed, else we would select one dress, beautiful in itself, and wear it on all occasions. What are the other things to which we must give heed in order to be well dressed?

Wearing the right thing at the right time is part of being well dressed. The girl who comes to school looking as though she is intended going to a party cannot be called well dressed, no matter if her dress is beautiful in color, beautiful in design, and very expensive. Neither can the girl be called well dressed who has curled her hair until it is frizzy, who neglects her finger-nails, and makes herself a caricature with powder and rouge.

In the final analysis, being well dressed depends upon five things: first, the colors worn must be harmonious with each other and with the individual complexion; second, clothes must be beautiful in design; third, they must be suited to the individual type of the wearer; fourth, they must be suited to the purpose for which they are intended; and fifth, the wearer must be well groomed.

It is comparatively easy matter to apply all these standards to the appearance of other people. It is easy to see their mistakes and their successes. Let us try to see ourselves as others see us and to acquire the same impersonal and critical attitude toward ourselves. It should be your aim to see the mistakes in your own costume and to know how to attain success. We will remember that it is not enough to satisfy four of the requirements listed above. If we are to be well dressed, we will achieve success when we can fulfill all of the five standards of tasteful dress.

MONEY TO FIGHT TICKS—Washington, July 25.—(FNS)—President Roosevelt has approved a work program allotment of $1,454,000 to the Bureau of Animal Industry for eradication of cattle fever tick in Florida, Louisiana and Texas. "These is nothing theoretical about this—it is being done every day," stated Mr. Betzner. "And, with average savings of two to three dollars a week, certainly every family can now afford to have a good electric refrigerator."

Thousands of Everglades housewives, who have been wondering what they could do to fight increasing food costs, will be very much interested in a statement made by Lou Betzner of The Hardware Store, Belle Glade West—house refrigerator dealer.

"Food costs for the average family can be cut as much as twenty per cent," said Mr. Betzner, "by taking full advantage of the savings offered by a first-class electric refrigerator. In fact, some Westinghouse owners report that they are saving more than twenty per cent . . . by following a few simple 'economy' rules. Which, every housewife could easily do."

According to Mr. Betzner, these Westinghouse owners buy practically all of their food at week-end "special" prices; they buy in larger quantities and make additional savings; they use "left-overs" to make many delicious and inexpensive dishes; and they eliminate wasteful food spoilage, as well as spend much less for refrigeration.

To Guard Negroes Against Tuberculosis

TALLAHASSEE, July 25.—(FNS)—The Florida Tuberculosis and Health association recently took a very important step in the public health situation of the state when it appointed a negro tuberculosis committee, comprised of outstanding men and women of their race.

Tuberculosis takes a heavy toll by toll among the negroes of this state. During 1934 there were 1,629 deaths in Florida due to tuberculosis and of this number 641 or 61% were negroes.

Due to our large colored population it is very important that an educational program be carried on. The newly appointed committee will work with doctors, nurses, teachers and social workers, with particular attention to the schools, where the latest information on tuberculosis will be stressed in an effort to help check the prevalence of this dread disease.

Knott, whose department has about 20 employees, was the first state officer to place his force under the new law.

In the room pictured here, built-in bookshelves and a fireplace put the awkward corners of a wasted room to good use. Careful consideration of unused areas in your home may reveal space for a "powder room" under the stairs, a linen closet, a den, or a convenient place for a much-needed telephone.

Modernization has converted the bleak, unimaginative house at right into a charming home. Gay contrasting shutters brighten the front of the structure.
